

How to use a food container in multiple ways ?

An incredible process. A few weeks ago in a German tank cleaning station. A vehicle drives in a cleaning station. The driver gives the order „clean the tank“.

The cleaning should not cost more than 70 €, so the driver's instructions. When the cleaner inspects the tank, he realizes that the label "CAT 3 Material - Not For Human Consumption" has been pasted over another label "Food Stuff Only".

The green sign can be easily removed and the tank "CAT 3 STUFF ONLY" becomes a tank for "FOOD STUFF ONLY".

This affair is not only annoying, but it is fraud. It's a kind of food fraud! A criminal act!

A huge problem for the producer, as well as for us consumers. Another problem for all logisticians who do their job with a high quality and reliability. These criminal logisticians are driving down prices and destroying the serious business model. Those who do a decent job and of course are more expensive than those cheats have the damage.

These problems can be eliminated immediately with the ENFIT system for traceability. One of the topics of the EUROPEAN WORKING GROUP - Food Safety in the Supply Chain, which is initiated and hosted by ENFIT.

What does this have to do with food compliance and food safety?
What does that mean for logisticians who do their job under the EU-Laws?
Do you want to accept something like that?
